Dear Mike,

I have taken a number of personal development and time management courses over the years, but none have achieved the level professionalism and depth as the Effective Personal Productivity program you lead. Your enthusiasm, coaching, and dedication to the process have resulted in many good habits that I will carry into the future. I have already realized a change in my habits that has significantly increased my productivity and contribution to the team.

One of the beneficial aspects of the program was goal setting and tracking. The techniques taught helped me set a clear path and keep the project on target. I am sure I would not be realizing the current level success in my software implementation project without applying the methods taught.

Not only has the program worked on my own self development, it helped me lead the team providing for others to take ownership and ensure my project succeeded. By developing others using the techniques in the program, they have taken on the ownership and accountability that moves a project forward.

I would like to thank you for not only teaching the program, but also the mentoring and coaching you also provided to make this a very worthwhile and practical course. I would not hesitate to recommend this program to anyone looking to increase their leadership skills and improve their success rate in reaching personal and business goals.

Sincerely,

Dave Reinhart, P. Eng.
